LEAN STUDY VISIT: LEAN MANAGEMENT WITH TOYOTA

14TH – 15TH MAY 2018

TOYOTA LEAN MANAGEMENT CENTRE, TOYOTA ENGINE PLANT, DEESIDE, NORTH WALES

Residential Study Visit:

Whether you are embarking on a cultural transformation, relaunching your lean journey or simply adding to your practical knowledge of lean management – this two-day study visit and workshop provides a unique insight into the Toyota Production System (TPS).

Attendees will, through the use of simulation techniques, extensive worksite study and discussion with senior management, grasp the meaning of key elements of the TPS and gain appreciation of its practical application.

Participants will understand the culture and performance management tools that exist to ensure TPS can be sustained and operate to provide the highest levels of operational performance.

Delegates will understand the process steps for implementation and their role in leading a Lean Transformation.

All participants will develop a greater practical knowledge of Toyota Management Behaviors and TPS through a minimum of FOUR visits to the factory floor.

Where possible, attendees will be able to interact with shop floor workers and managers to enhance their understanding of the area in question.

Key highlights:

- Practical study visits with a minimum of FOUR visits to Toyota's factory floor to underpin workshop learning
- Learn in detail the concepts of both the Toyota Production Systems (TPS) & the Toyota Way Management behaviours
- Understand the culture and performance management tools that exist to ensure TPS can be sustained
- Delivered by the Toyota Lean Management Centre – learn from the worldwide experts in Lean
- Includes accommodation for two nights and two networking dinners, 14th May with Managers from Toyota

For more information contact Jon Tudor or Nicola Corcos on 0161 298 5556 or email nicola@truenorthexcellence.com

The programme includes hotel accommodation, all meals including two networking dinners.

Agenda/Key Study Areas:

- Toyota Philosophy & Thinking
- Customer Driven Focus
- Continuous Improvement & Waste
- Importance of Stability
- The Toyota Production System
- Production Planning & the Pull System
- Human Resources for a Lean Environment
- Role of Management
- Minimum of FOUR visits to the Toyota engine assembly line

14th May

Toyota Networking Dinner – all attendees will be able to meet the trainers and managers from the Toyota Centre at an informal networking dinner. You will be able to reflect with your peers on the first days learning and develop your own insight and learning within an informal networking environment.

“The insights into the culture and the visits to the factory floor were the highlight. The practical activity was excellent, very well presented and key to my current activities. Visiting the assembly line and witnessing mini-kaizens very good. I got a great deal from observing the team and group leader’s meetings during the morning, a real inspiration for me.”

J. Blackmore, Regional Energy Generation Manager, United Utilities
